

Dressage to Music with Beverly Brightman

Saddlecombe—Headley

28th March 2009

Grand Prix dressage rider, Beverly Brightman, began her career in horse trials where she evented at up to four star level. In 1995 she had a horrific accident when her horse fell on top of her. Left with serious injuries and unable to hardly walk, let alone ride, she proved how determined she was to get back in the saddle and a year later started the sport of dressage.

In 1997, she took over the ride of Master Doruto from Delia Cunningham, and progressed up to Grand Prix level.

Beverly has competed internationally and was on the British Team for the CDIO in Poland in 2003. She was place 10th in the final Olympic trials for Athens 2004 and in the past 10 years has competed in the Dressage National Championships every year bar one.
